Transforming how the industry builds and utilizes standards

MISMO is the standards development organization for the mortgage industry and is the central point for collaboration among lenders, servicers, regulators, government agencies, insuring and guaranteeing agencies, GSEs, and technology providers. Developing and implementing industry standards that solve business, operational, and technological challenges is an important part of the cooperation happening at MISMO. However, because of the collaborative, manual nature of the standards development process, it can take time and errors can occur.

MISMO is partnering with Viant Eye to introduce a brand-new platform that will transform how the industry builds and utilizes standards.
